

Daniela Escobar is part of the Official Board of Advisors of the Los Angeles Brazilian Film Festival. She is a Brazilian Actress and received her degree in Publicity, Marketing and Advertising. She started in the theatre in 1989 and her career took place in television in 1992 with the show “Voce Decide” broadcasted by Globo Television in Brazil. Daniela was recognized as an excellent actress after interpreted a Jewish that felt in love with a nazi in “Aquarela do Brasil”. She has worked in many Brazilian soap operas and was the host during 6 years of a TV Show called “Super Bonita”.